

Character Behaviors

These adjectives describe feelings. Think of a main character in the book you are reading now. Write the name of that character on a piece of notebook paper. Underneath the character's name, list at least ten words to describe how that character might be feeling. Skip a line between each word. Next to each word, write a sentence explaining what happened to cause this feeling or why you think the character feels this way. If you aren't sure what a word means, check the dictionary.

addled	ecstatic	insecure	relieved afraid	elated	interested	resentful agitated	embarrassed	intrigued	responsible ambivalent	enthusiastic	intuitive	satisfied annoyed	euphoric	involved	scared antagonistic	exasperated	irate	secure anxious	excited	irritated	sullen apprehensive	exuberant	jittery	surprised baffled	foolish	jolly	sympathetic belligerent	fortunate	jubilant	talkative bewildered	frantic	lighthearted	tense boastful	friendly	lucky	terrific bored	frustrated	mischievous	thoughtful calm	furious	mixed-up	thrilled cautious	grateful	moody	tranquil concerned	helpful	mystified	trapped confident	helpless	nervous	troubled confused	hopeful	objective	uncomfortable curious	hostile	open-minded	undecided dejected	humiliated	optimistic	uneasy despondent	hungry	overwhelmed	uninterested detached	hurried	perplexed	vexed determined	inadequate	preoccupied	victimized discouraged	independent	puzzled	wonderful disgusted	introspective	proud	worried

